THE CLERGY and LAITY TRADITION

When will the kingdoms of this world give way to the Kingdom of God?

We have seen religious rulers who in pursuit of what they thought to be God's will, they introduced a theocratic kingdom upon the earth. The governance of God's kingdom by human authority has resulted in dangerous alterations to the Gospel. It has fallen short of the Glory of God. Even though efforts may have been founded upon good intentions including Scriptural guidance. Ultimately formal theology and systems of ministry find themselves at variance with the kingdom of God, a spiritual kingdom outside of the world's philosophy and paradigms. Probably the most notable feature of institutional religion is its oversight by the priest class.

Where did the clergy and the laity doctrine come from? Historical information is available to chronicles the transition to religion in the 2nd and 3rd centuries. In my own experience of studying the Word and watching religious scenarios playing out, I have observed how worldly values and methodology begins to gradually alter the Spiritual side of Christian life and practice. Jude exhorts in his short epistle to contend for the faith first presented by the apostles lest it be lost or corrupted. (Jude vs 3.)

In light of the gospel, we see that there is a clear pathway of revelation leading away from any doctrine of a priesthood. "The ministry" as a clergy-centered activity must be viewed in the light of apostolic exhortations: For those who "have received a gift. Minister that gift to one another," Peter tells us.

Priesthood is any system in which a person (a leader or person of authority) intervenes with God on behalf of others. The revelation of the New Covenant Gospel points to a new dispensation: a priesthood of all believers. Further, in the book of The Revelation, John receives a vision of the churches and among these we find reference to the doctrine of the Nicolaitins, a doctrine that God despises. Nicolaitinism is that system that takes control over the common believers and essentially take them captive, ruling over them and dispensing whatever teaching they deem necessary and making merchandise of the sheep.

We can not compare the forms of worship or discipleship described in the Epistles to that which we find in most formal church practices known today. In the early days of the church there was no formalized ministry.

Discipling was, no theology schools, no accreditation to ministry credentials. There were only believers who after being told the good news, free gift of salvation and were disciplined in matters of the Spiritual life afforded through the Son of God. To these disciples it was given to experience the powers of the world to come, (The Kingdom of Heaven.)

These first century believers were not graduates of Bible schools, but all experienced the mighty works of God on a day to day basis. All learned that Jesus (Yeshua the Messiah) made it possible for any and all to become adopted children of God. Believers then as well as now became new creations through acknowledgment of Jesus' dying for sin. With the empowerment of the Holy Spirit each began to be disciplined in the same kinds of exploits that replicated Jesus' ministry.

Changes herald a new status of humanity

In the ancient time period after Eden, mankind lost their status as children of God. Until Christ the Messiah was manifested in human form, only an occasional prophet was called to speak for God. But for the most part humanity and the world could not know God, nor could meet with him for fellowship. Satan became the default 'god of this world.'

After Jesus Christ came to fulfill his mission as the "son of man" and the lamb of God, a way was made for us. We could at last, know Him, meet with Him, have fellowship with Him, and even call Him Abba, Daddy. This is the Good News!

Throughout the earliest days of the Christian faith the question has been asked and must continue to be asked, "Should we obey God or man?" In order to distinguish between these two voices something is required of us:

To begin, each of us must acknowledge that the Bible IS the Word of Truth and trust it to be the single valid source of correct doctrine; Too few in the modern world have actually discovered this and believe. Secondly it is required of us to listen to the voice of the inner witness which God has given to all his children. Those seeking truth are subject to some expert, theologian, or cleric explain to inform us what is written.

About new believers:

We all go through a spiritual infancy. At such times you are open and eager to grow in the knowledge of God. During these times we find that God is always close at hand. He is quick to reveal himself and to answer prayers and to support you as you grow. But this is also a precarious time because in our eagerness to learn the ways of God we can be taken captive easily by wrong doctrine and fall into the trap of religion which we accept willingly enough. (1Corinthians 12v1-2)

New believers require time to renew their minds and their habits of lifestyle and even beliefs they formerly held to be reasonable and true. The renewing of the mind is achieved more or less quickly as we absorb the words pertaining to the Good News. The epistles written by the first apostles describe the nature of the spiritual life and the parameters of community and discipleship. The Holy Spirit baptism is the prerequisite for any such discipleship and growth. This baptism opens our eyes to heavenly things. It bears witness to the Spirit of Truth that the world can not receive nor comprehend.

If any expert tells you, with assumed authority, that the gifts of the first century apostolic church have disappeared, do not believe them. But flea quickly association with any such authority. As Jesus said addressed leaven of the Pharisees (religious traditionalists without spiritual understanding); who resisted the Holy Spirit. Matt 23: 15 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel land and sea to win one proselyte, and when he is won, you make him twice as much a son of hell as yourselves." (also see Revelation C.8, Stephen's testimony)

We begin our spiritual path as spiritual infants who crave "the milk of the Word," Too many who God has called to be established as a new born child of God become polluted with religious doctrine. Our understandings can be poisoned and corrupted by evil doctrine. As a result, many receive the wrong Jesus, the wrong spirit, or the wrong gospel.

(1 Corinthians, 11;3) Discerning truth is a constant challenge.

Religion presents teachings or stipulations that become binding or obligatory upon the followers. Are we to question the teachings of traditional authorities? Yes, prove all teachings with scripture. Are we to question the doctrine of our church or church leadership? Yes, there are many in the pulpit, who are nothing more than "blind guides." Many who question will be shunned, or dismissed as heretical. Though we suffer condemnation it becomes the path to liberty.

WHAT IS MINISTRY? What is a Minister?

In the New Testament texts, the word translated "ministry" is translated from service. The term ministry comes from Greek Diakonia. Thus ministry means to serve. Through the process of generations of religious practice, ministry has come to mean something else, something formal and liturgical. Gifts denoted experience and leadership become designated as a religious office. e.g. Pastor, Deacon, Bishop, or Cardinal. Within the context of "church house" practices, ministry has been defined and restricted to that which is done behind a pulpit and then only by the few with "credentials."

Discipleship is for all believers.

According to the Scripture, discipleship is the keystone of the gospel. Yet, it is rarely taught to church congregations with the emphasis that Jesus gave to his own first disciples or apostles. All believers are trainees or disciples in the Kingdom of God. And all disciples are expected to minister what he has been given by the Holy Spirit (A particular gift of God). "As every person has received the (free) gift, so minister the same to one another." (1Peter 4:11)

To grow in the Spiritual life of God we are instructed that we can be transformed into the pattern of Jesus the Son of God. and through him becoming partakers of the Lord's ministry as well as his spiritual attributes. These attributes include the gifts of the Spirit, (Galations 5:22) love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. All demonstrate the character of compassion and the ability to serve in kindness, (charity) through the Spirit of Love. Through such ministry (service) the path is open to see human lives restored and perfected.

The Tradition of the Professional Clergy

There are some positives that remain in the institutional church. These include social relationships and a place to receive some teachings and moral precepts that are Biblical. But even in this light such relationships are very limited and lack deeper levels of discipleship and growth in the knowledge of heavenly things. Fortresses of institutional religion remain resistant and resolute. Institutional religion is in descendency but does not have the insight to recognize its own demise. Old habits and traditions die hard. The inertia of centuries of social tradition is hard to alter.

We have learned to accept without question, the role of a trained clergy person. Many of these men and women are brilliant communicators, possessing compassion and dedication. These have their own fruitfulness in their calling and are beloved by those who they touch or disciple. Conversely, there are others among the certified clergy who may not even know God, in his promises and power. Unlike the apostle Paul who said I determine to know nothing among you but Jesus Christ crucified and to demonstrate the reality of his ruler-ship by the power of God. There are innumerable trained clergy professionals who presume to substitute sermonettes rather than in demonstrating and discipling believers in Spiritual understanding and the power of the Spirit. Those who exalt 'preaching.' Eloquence and persuasive speech and the ability to hold an audience attention for a sufficient amount of time is a prerequisite for clerical success.

I believe that in the role of professional clergy men or women assume their own pre-eminence owing to their credentials.

It would be a great if people approved with seminary credentials would use as a doorway to service, to bless and to edify. Sadly these spiritual credentials are often turned into a tool of personal gain and control over others.

Examining The Clergy and the Laity

The Clergy-Laity doctrine divides the flock into two disparate parts. The good shepherd story described in John's gospel, chapter 10, describes the characteristics of a good shepherd. It lists among the virtues, intimacy and closeness of the shepherd to the flock. The shepherd knows each of his charges and calls them by name; he will sacrifice his personal comfort and life for the flock. Finally we are told that Jesus is this shepherd. The psalmist has written almost a thousand years before, "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want." Jesus Christ remains the true shepherd, the true bishop (overseer) and shepherd (pastor) of our souls."

Jesus modeled correct shepherding, in his ministry process of preaching, teaching and leading with care and compassion. The Lord demonstrated his Spiritual credentials with miracles, signs and wonders, and with deliverance from the demonic. To those who did not know of the Father's plan to extend the Kingdom of God he Preached the Gospel of the Kingdom; To his closest disciples, he gave more intimate insight and he taught them through dialogue of questions and answers. It was through dialogue with his closest disciples and associates that he expounded deeper truths and unraveled parables.

Jesus came and ministered with meekness and as a servant. He was a friend to sinners. He came to seek and to save and to serve. Modern church members tend to exalt leadership and place them on unrealistic pedestals and grant them unusual authority. Jesus taught us about those who lead: (Matthew 23) "Who is the greatest among you, Jesus said, shall be a servant to all." Moreover, Jesus instructed his own disciples not to place one man over others. He required that they were not to give titles to these 'masters' saying call no man master, No man teacher, No man father. This ought to qualify as a template by which to measure the character and role of those in the role of pastoral leadership.

The gift and calling of a Spiritual shepherd is a gift to disciple the body. A pastoral gift enables mentor-ship and , encouragement. The pastoral call may just as easily minister that gift outside of the parameters of religious formalism. But this may be a call without a salary or a congregation. The shepherding gift forms caring relationships. It brings with it a necessary compassion and wisdom to minister hope, encouragement, wisdom to strengthen the 'flock.' Leadership is based upon experience and depth of understanding of the Word of God and the True Gospel. It should not be imagined as a mere career calling. I know very few who fit these criteria.

THE BODY : edified by more than one leadership gift

One individual with a pastoral gifting most probably does not hold all of the ministry gifts. These additional ministry gifts are needed to fully edify the body. (Ephesians 4) God in fact has more than one finger on his hands. There is something called the 5-fold ministry, which includes apostles, prophets, teachers, pastors, and evangelists. We might also consider the other hand as a body has two hands; consider additional gifts or, 5 other ministries which serve the body in a less formal or visible way. So called apostolic movements tend to reintroduce the hierarchical structure and a network or association of high profile and highly paid Christian 'celebrities' all eager to provide seminars or conferences to garner large offerings and expand their ministries .

Guidance by Spiritually wise and experienced

Throughout the apostolic letters we are told that mature men of God were to guide and direct and to maintain purity of doctrine and practices. These were designated overseers (Gr. presbuteros) of the local flocks (fellowships) of God. These bodies met in a form and place having no resemblance to church houses that are the norm today.

Overseers need spiritual experience more than theological credentials! The apostolic intention was to keep our faith and traditions accurate and steadfast. This model must continue to stand. What was written by the apostles was delivered with the intention of providing guidance and knowledge of the kingdom for all believers regardless of time or place. Maturity in faith and spiritual understanding encouraged the guidance of elders or overseers. These men and woman having depth of experience in the Spiritual life we called to provide balance and correction so that true doctrine be maintained and enforced among the fellowship:

In the early days of Christianity, elders, pastors, or overseers evolved into an office that assumed the whole responsibility of "ministry." This evolved into the clergy roles of today. Interesting things regarding the form of the early church are in evidence today revealing a return to New Testament forms of Koinonia, Ecclesia (Christians assembling together)
